TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS of the COMMERCIAL BANKING COMPANY of SYDNEY.

-GENTLEMEN,—As shareholders in your company, we beg to call your attention to the great inconvenience and loss which the Bank must necessarily sustain from the operation of the 49th clause of the Deed of Settlement, which, renders any retiring director ineligible for re-election during a period of twelve months.

We are aware that the Board has no power to alter this law;
but as we are anxious to ascertain the views of the shareholders as to the propriety of altering the same, we have to request that you will convene a special general meeting of the proprietors to consider a resolution to alter the 49th dause, as as to enable retiring directors to be cligible for ne-election.

This company has been initiated with the view of establishing in Australia and which it is confidently believed would produce a very large return upon the capital, and be of great benefit to the country in preventing a serious drain for the importation of glass and porcelain, the consumption of which is great and uncreasing.

The manufacturing of glass and porcelain is universally known to be one of the most profitable investments; but the outly for buildings, chemicals, and other materials, machinery, and labour, has prevented individuals from entering into the business, with the exception of those possessed of large capital. In Australia it cannot be attempted except by a Joint-Stock Company; and when once such company were established, local competition would be improbable.

The whole supply of the Southern hemisphere is at present derived from Europe, at a cost enormously enhanced by freights, charges, breakage, and various commercial commissions and profits. Three are said to reach not less than 50 per cent. on the criginal cost of the manufacture would enjoy a protection to that extent, the benefits of which would be shared by the Company.

It is proposed to establish the works at Burwood, near Newcastle. In New South Wales, at which place the sex-in Europe; therefore the local manufacture would enjoy a grotection to that actument, the benefits of which would be shared by the Company.

It is proposed to establish the works at Burwood, mear Newcastle, in New South Wales, at which place the promoters have secured a tract of land, and other advantages saticd to their operations, they believe, beyond parallel. The land abounds in sand and porcelain stone, of the very best description for glass and porcelain. A coal mine is on the estate, and a railway to the port of Newcastle passes the spot selected. A pottery in full work is already on the land, giving a profit.

Although the intention is ultimately to manufacture glass, porcelain, and pottery of all the descriptions in general use, and to conduct the operations of engraving, cutting, painting, and gilding, &c., it is proposed to commence with those articles only which are most largely in demand and of simpler manufacture.

The capital of the Company is to be £100,000, or 10,000 shares of £10 each; to be called for at the rate of £15s, per share as required, but at intervals of not less than three months.

The sum of 2s. 6d. each will be required on allotment of sharess.

Oversears and experienced workmen will be brought from Germany, where these manufactures have been prosecuted with eminent success, and whence it has been found expedient to introduce them into some of the great Ragisla works. It is proposed to take advantage of all the best modern machinery and appliances, and of the utmost practical skill in management.

The estimate which has been formed shows a profit of about 40 per cent., after keeping a reserve of 10 per cent., against wear and deterioration of buildings and machinery.

£18,000 of the expiral has already been subscribed in New South Wales, and £10,000 has been promised in Malbourne. A large portion of the capital will, it is expected, be raised in Germany.

The directors named will continue in office until the Company is fully established, when they will be replaced by the choice of the shareholders. Fifty shares to be the qualification of a director.

Applications for shares to be sent in before the 10th day of September, addressed to the Secretary, at 143, Pitt-street, in the annexed form, and to be secompanied by a deposit of one shilling a share to cover preliminary expenses.

Ratract from Report of W. G. Walters, referred to in Prospectus:
Currawang Copper Mines,
Saturday Morning, July 29th, 1865.

To the Proprietors of the Currawang Copper Mines.
Gentlemen,—I beg to hand you my report of these Mines to the present date, work performed, and minerals developed.

The main shaft is now sunk to about 12 fathoms. In going down from surface we peased through Gossens and Red Oxide to a depth of about 16 feet, it then underlaid easterly out of the Shaft, we then sunk to 34 feet through decomposed Slate, Prian, and Mundic, these drove south 24 feet, when I came on the Red Oxide. Put a X cut east to intersect the Lode, and came on the hanging wall at 23 feet; in this X cut we passed through the Red Oxide and the Black Ore and Mundic in several veins—dip of lode northerly, underlay easterly. I then drove south 12 feet on the same of the lost. feet; in this X cut we passed through the Red Oxide and cut Black Ore and Mundic in several veins—dip of lode northerly, underlay easterly. I then drove south 12 feet on the course of the Lode in the direction of No. 2 Shaft, and cut Black Ore and Mundic in the bottom of drive, which still continues. Thus having proved without doubt the existence of Black Ore, I then sunk the Main Shaft to the 10-fathom lavel, crosscutted east 17 feet, and again intersected the Lode, passing through it to a well defined hanging wall; in the centre of the Lede we cut a vein of Black Ore and Mundic which averages in the depth of the drive 2 feet, but at the bottom 8 feet. In sinking the shaft to this drive we found the existence of Native and Red Oxides of Copper, which underlays with the Lode, and is now gene out of the shaft for 20 fathom level drive. No. 2 Shaft has been sunk to a depth of 43 feet inches through decomposed Slate, Prian, and small seams of Gossan. At about 30 feet we struck the Lode on the floot wall, underlaying east, in which we came an a vein of Black Oxide and Mundic running out on the underlay to the east end of the Shaft, which from its course and underlay to the east end of the Shaft, which from its course and underlay to the east end of the Shaft, which from its course and underlay to the east end of the Shaft are now being sunt, one to the south of No. 2 Shaft and the other to the north of the Main Shaft, which has been built by the men with their own labour and the Company's Materials.

This Company is formed for the purchase of the mineral land of the Glammire Estate, within seven miles of Bathurst. The property is EIGHT SQUARE MILES in extent, more or less, and contains a vast gold field, which is already occupied by a considerable mining population.

The purchase money is £27,000, of which £16,000 will be payable in cash, and £11,000 in shares of £2 each fully paid up, but upon which no dividend will accrue until the subscribers are in receipt of a dividend of 10 per cent. per annum. This will leave a working capital of £13,000, which it is believed will be ample for all purposes.

The mode of payment will be as follows:

The shillings per share in one month.

Ten shillings per share in three months from date of the second instalment.

And thereafter the balance as may be notified by the Board.

Ten skillings per share in three months from date of the second instalment.

And thereafter the balance as may be notified by the Board.

The sources of income are various.

1. The Alluvial Diggings.—These are occupied by a population of over 300 miners, from w_n a revenue of nearly £4000 per annum is now being received.

2. Rents for business licenses at the rate of £2 per month from all traders on the ground.

3. Sales of the township of Sr. Authouy, already laid out on the Company's Estate, and upon which several substantial buildings are now creeted.

4. Rent from leases of the ground to Shicing Companies, some of which have already commenced working on the Gravel Hills in St. Anthony's Creek.

5. Rent from Quartz refs on the property.

6. The crushing and annalgamation of the ferruginous songlomerate known by the miners as "centent." This is found in large quantities in various parts of the ground to the known extent of over 70 acres. It is readily crushed, and can be delivered at the Company's works at a very small cost. Mr. Combes, the well-known mining engineer, estimates the Company's home from this source alone at over £17,000 per annum, or over 40 per cent, per annum on the capital of £40,000. The machinery for this purpose will cost about £4000.

7. The sluicing of the drift or gravel hills. These hills bear a strong resemblance to the far-famed hills of Bendigo, and can be easily and economically worked with a plant, the cost of which will be about £2000. Mr. Combes estimates that from this source an income of over £9000 per cannum will be obtained, or over $10 per cent, per annum on the capital. If his estimate be correct these works can be increased to an inadefinite extent, as the gravel hills run along the whole length of $84,000 for cover 10 per cent, per annum on the capital. It has been surposedy narrowed in order to admit as small a number of subscribers as possible to a participation in the expected profits.

For full details reference is made to the Prospectus published in extense of the ber of subscribers as possible to a participation in the capected profits.

For full details reference is made to the Prospectus gublished in extense in the Herralto and Empiric of Saturday, the 12th instant.

THE LIABILITY OF SHAREHOLDERS WILL, BERESTRICTED TO THE AMOUNT OF THEIR SHARES ONLY.

QUATRE BRAS WOOLWASHING ESTABLISHmected with the wool trade.

The wool season of 1864 and 1865 being nearly ever, I hasten to make my acknowledgments to those kind friends who have so generously supported me through my fart season in my new establishment, and to assure these nothing that I can do shall be wanting to prove my desire to carry out their wishes for the future.

Believing that the wool trade has the elements of progress in it, I intend to double the working power of the satablishment, and thus make room for both old friends and new ones.

By thus making increased facilities, which I believe will be as beneficial to my constituents as myself, I shall be enabled to facilitate the return of the wood, either for shipment or otherwise, without any unreasonable detention, which has been to often the cause of complaint.

With thanks for all favours past,

I remain yours truly,

JOSEPH HAIGH.

CAUTION.—Chlorodyne.—In Chancery.—It was clearly proved before Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood, by affidavits from eminent hospital physicians of London, that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See the Times, January 12th, 1864. The public, therefore, are cautiomed against using any other than Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORO-DYNE, which is extensively used in hospitals at home and abroad, and is affirmed by medical testimonials accompanying each bottle to be the most efficacious medicine ever discovered for fevers, dysentery, diarrhosa, consumption, soughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, spasms, rheumatisms, &c. No homes should be without it. It relieves pains, soothes the system, induring refreshing and soothing sleep, without producing or leaving any unpleasant effects like opium, and may be taken at any time in a few drop doses.

DOYVEAU LAFFECTEUR'S ROB, authorised and adopted by the medical faculty of France. This syrup, prepared and guaranteed genuine by the signature of "Dr. Girandeau de St., Gervais," is superior to the essence and to the syrups of sarasparilla. of outrimos, iodine of potassium, and other mercurial preparations. Being of easy digestion and pleasant to the taste and smell, the Rob is recommended by the medical practitioners of all countries for the cure of tetters, abscesses, cancers, ulcers, degenerated gales, scrofula, scurvy, and fluor albus.

The Rob de Boyveau Laffecteur is useful to cure radically, and in a short time, sorimonious fluor albus, and old and new contagious symptoms. The Rob particularly cures syphillite diseases, and in especially adapted to cases where mercury has been administered, as it completely eradicates from the system the baneful influence which the use of all such preparations so frequently produce.

DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA has been, during 35 years, emphatically sanctioned by the medical profession, and universally accepted by the public as the best remedy for acidity of the stomach, heartburn, headache, gout, and indigestion, and as a mild apprient for delicate constitutions, more especially for ladies and children. Combined with the acidulated lemon syrup, it forms an agreeable effervescing draught, in which its apprient qualities are much increased. During hot seasons, and, above all, in hot climates, the regular use of this simple and elegant remedy has been found highly beneficial.

Where meat's so does that any price they pay;
With all they get, for more they loudly call.
By day and night our flocks are burried there,
Leaving a scanty market here behind,
They drain us out of more than we can spare,
That stock for home we scarcely now can find.
Amonget all this, we have our guardian filend.
We have M'Carroll, with a hear's that stout,
And, notwithstanding all the flocks they send,
He says, "Cheer up, we'll see they send,
He says, "Cheer up, we'll see they wend.
The is the time we want our "PRINCE OF TRADE"
To see us safe from scarcity and rise.
We need not fear, the winter days may frown,
And frowing times, too, press us very hard,
But while M'Carroll leads the trade in town,
We'll meet them both with utter disregard.

M'SYMON, 286, Elizabeth-street, Melbourne, United States. In forms a flat, sven, and elastic seam, which is warranted not to rip in wear if properly sewed, when every third stitch is cut. This machine can be run but one way; two thousand stitches, or two yards of work, can be done in one minute without dropping a stitch. The machine is so simple and securate in its construction that it supersedes the use of the noisy shuttle, and with one thread produces all the practical results of theiro-thread machines, and more, for it fells without basting, and home the finest muslin without puckering. It will sew perfectly from one to thirty-two thicknesses of calico without alteration of tension. The highest colonial testimonials can be given of their practical working. S. HEBBLEWHITE, 432,

SATURDAY, AUGUST 19, 1865.

Those most conversant with the state of Vic toria, and with the multiplication of joint stock companies in various forms, look forward to the future with much concern. It is not doubted that many of these at is not doubted that many of these undertakings are of the most promising nature. Indeed, the extraordinary profits occasionally netted by fortunate speculators is one great cause of that fever which blinds the understanding and perverts the judgment, and which has so often seduced well-doing trades-men to dishonesty and ruin. The history of companies upon the whole is but a record of fraud and disappointment. The moral standard by which they are judged is different from that which rules in all other transactions. They are a substitute for the lottery system which still exists in grand proportions on the Continent, and of which we catch occasional glimpses exists in grand proportions on the Continent, and of which we catch occasional glimpses in the local advertisements. The laws of the colony as well as those of England have extinguished these speculations except as they are able to assume some plausible disguise and come in under some philanthropic or scientific or historical properties. tific or literary name. But the principle which suggests them is always active in every community, and our method of constructing and managing companies furnishes a respectable substitute. The ingenious projectors of these associations have their stereotyped forms to meet all varieties of taste, and to assure as much prosperity as may extract the money from the pockets of the people. They commonly commence by describing the extraordinary advantages which have been gained by judicious and persevering outlay. "It has long been felt," says the projector. "It has been often a matter of surprise that it has not been done before." "It has been often a matter of surprise that it has not been done before." "The extraordinary advantages must be apparent to the most cursory observer." "The experience of many has already established the possibility and desirability of the undertaking." "When we consider the attractions and promises of this whole scheme it must be a matter of great amazement that the capitalists have to the present moment overlooked it." "The utmost facilities will be afforded from the utmost facilities will be afforded from the utmost facilities will be afforded from the peculiar circumstances under which the project will be launched, from the great experience of those by whom it has been contrived, and the cheap plan on which all its branches will be conducted." Then we have general assurances of universal prosperity—intimations that cent per cent, is possible, that 50 prosperity—interpretations of the prosperity—interpretations of the prosperity—interpretations of the period of the prosperity—interpretations of the prosperity—interpretations of the prosperity of the prosperity is prosperity—interpretations of the prosperity of the prosper that 50 per cent. is highly probable, and that nothing less than 20 could be expected by the most cautious and calculating inquirer! By these phrases, trick upon trick is perpetrated upon the world. The poor are pillaged of their hard-earned gains, and find themselves as badly off after all their saving and sparing as they would have been if they had indulged themselves like their fast-living neighbours.

Experience has shewn that names, however respectable, are not always to be taken as a gua-rantee of the prospects of these undertakings. There are men of easy mind—men who are gra-tified at seeing their names distinguished as the managers of a big concern, and there have been managers of a big concern, and there have been examples without end where these good gentlemen have been practically selling to the public the property which they were so ready to manage. They have been in the enviable position of agent for both parties. Under such circumstances it is not surprising if the easy and confiding director is duped; if the busy and indifferent one in middle of the uncomplete and indifferent one in middle of the uncomplete and indifferent one is misled; if the unscrupulous and dishonest one is bought; and if the sharp and dishonest one is bought; and if the sharp and clever one manages at once to save his conscience, and escape his responsibility.

Let us not be supposed, in these allusions, to have any persons in our eye, or any transactions on the carpet specially in view. We are perfectly well aware that some companies have every reasonable prospect of success, and that they have been launched and are directed by many as perfectly convinced of their soundness. as any who may be inclined to trust on their authority. But we must still feel it our duty to recall often to the minds of our readers to recall often to the minus of our readers those facts which, in the fever of company projecting and launching, all have been too apt to forget, to their sorrow. Many have no intention to remain identified with the concern in which they take up shares. Their idea is to sell as soon as others are more con-fiding than themselves—to assist by their tem-porary holdings the fever of speculation, and to elevate the hopes of those who are around them, and then—leaving behind the grand profits in able returns, and retire with the premium in their pockets. On a recent attempt to import into London one of the American kerosene speculations, the Times newspaper called atten-tion to the proposal, and expressed amazement at the cheap terms upon which such immense prospects were offered to the British public. A suggestion was made that, to shew the genuineness of the transaction, a very large pro-portion of the shares should be retained for a long period by the original parties.

We have no doubt that any project which shall have attached to it twelve names we could mention would not only find great success in the colonies, but, notwithstanding past expe-rience, be launched in the London market and rience, be launched in the London market and obtain currency there. People who know the parties whose names are attached would come to the conclusion that they never would associate themselves with a dishonest or a losing concern; that they would be too intelligent to be dupes, and too upright to be the instruments of duping others. That such confidence exists—and we fear we may add that it has been sometimes abused—should ever check the rash association and that it has been sometimes abused— should ever check the rash association of men of character and position with undertak-ings that have not been subject to the lens of experience, and that have not been scrutinised by men who have no interest in deceiving the directors or the public. Hitherto, either from the paucity of cash or the want of enterprise, we have less felt the influence of these speculations than our Victorian neighbours. There it has than our Victorian neighbours. There it has amounted to a veritable peril to the general interest. Shopkeepers and tradesmen of all sorts have gone into these mining concerns, and their stability and even honour are suspended on their success. That they will not be successful in the great majority of instances seems to be the firm belief of those who are best acquainted with the share market; and although the truth may be long eluded, in monetary matters it will at last make itself heard.

at last make itself heard.

Every few years—generally at intervals of five or six—a spirit of speculation falls upon the people. What has been long past is forgotten. The love of adventure effaces the lessons of prudence, and the time soon arrives when those | TRLEGRAPHIC MESSAGES. prudence, and the time soon alrives when those who would recall them are treated as public entmies. There are, however, few natural calamities so severe in their consequences, or which leave a larger residuum of evil behind

Stokes, Hopkins, Driver, Deane, Powell, Macconsin. A match, first year against the second and third, came of on Thurday afternoon, on the University ground, the two sides being captained respectively by Means Campbell and Deas Thomson, and resulted in the first year winning two games, chiefly owing to the aplendid running of Mr. O'Mears, assisted by the good play of Mesers. Barris and Lebetne. Mesers. Blaspe and G. Faithfull distinguished themselves on the part of the second and third years.

TROPHIES OF THE CRIMAN WAR.—Two of the Russian guns which were taken by the British troops at the siege of Schastopol, and which were presented by her Majesty Queen Victoria to the citizens of Sydney as trophies of the Crimean war, are now being placed in the Outer Domain, near the statue of Sir Richard Bourke. The guns have been in the Corporation stores a considerable time, and in April last the permission of the Secretary for Lands was obtained for the placing of them in their present site. They are of iron, and are understood to be 52-pounders. The murrile of one of the pieces will point towards Weolloomobo Bay, and that of the other in the direction of the Australian Library. It is not intended to place any encloaure around the guns, but they will be mounted on iron carriages, and firmly fixed to the stone basements which have been built for the purpose. Very great interest was shown by the reople of this colony respecting the progress of hostilities in the Crimea, and the public will no doubt be ratified at the peasession of these interesting memorials of British valour, while the citizens of Sydney is particular will appreciate most highly this mark of her Majesty's distinguished consideration.

DEART FIRM EXHAUSTION.—Yesterday the City Coroner held an inquest at his office, on view of the body of a Chinese lying dead in the Infirmary. The evidence showed that deceased was seen coming from the direction of Paramatic as Friday last, and that on the following day be made himself a held on the property with him further ORDERED OUT OF COURT.—The Mount Alexander Mail says:—In a case heard in the County Court before his Honor Judge Skinner, all the witnesses were ordered out of Court. One, however, George Holzey, had no sooner retired than he re-entered, and listened to the evidence. When called upon to give evidence, the fact that he had not complied with the order of the Court was pointed out to his Honor, who gave him a lecture, and ordered him to be locked up for twenty-four hours. The witness pleaded that he was not aware of the rules of the Court, and begged to be let off. His Honor so far relented as to let him be discharged at the rising of the Court.

The Volunteers were landed at Waispu to assist Morgan's party, and if appears that they arrived just in size, as hard fighting took place on the Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, the enemy losing eighteen killed, and nine wounded. One naffive was shot dead, and five volunteers were weunded on our side. The behaviour of the loyal natives is highly spoken of by the officers of the Relipse, who state that no men could have fought better.

On the 19th ultimo, Mr. M'Lean, Superintendent of Napier, received a letter from a friendly chiet, stating that the Tai Marire prices Patars (Butler) had be subtime the Tai Marire prices Patars (Butler) had benafed to the Patan and the robel pah at Awanui, causing great destruction.

The Kelpse and St. Kilde landed some 300 stand of arms, besides ammunition, on the East Coast, for the practicion of the loyal natives against the Pat Marires.

The St. Kilda left Waispu hast Wednesnay, with Mr. M'Lean, to hand some arms and ammunition at a native sectionent about twenty miles south of Poverty Bay, in order to protect themselves against the Hau Haus, and, as they were going to join Morgan's party, the rebals in that district would be completely surrounded.

The place at Awanui where the Eclipse landed the volunteers is now in possession of the Hau Haus, but no more forces can be landed there, and the only communication will be through the heavy surf which provaits at the Waispu.

Before their Honors Sir ALPRES STRUERS, C.J., and Mr. Justice Wise.

Before their thic case as follows:—

This is an action of ejectment, for a small farm near wadder called Fleming's, brought by the eldest son of Maggard Phillips. deceased, formerly Fleming. At the mid. after rejecting orience of a certain alleged actual partition, Bir. Justice Wise declined to direct the jury to presence, or toll them that they week presents, the execution of a deed effectuating such partition, or otherwise conveying a feed effectuating such partition, or otherwise conveying a mach interest property, was David Brown: who died in its had been according to the creamant of the creamant once was right.

The original owner of this farm, then forming part of a mech larger property, was David Brown: who died in its He had several children, and Margaret Fleming was an adopted daughter, brought up with them. Brown died another in the second of the children were then under age, signed another in the case of the children were then under age, signed a memoratum or document of some kind, binding themselves to act on and carry out the father's wishes; and the vide, as also apparently one or two of the daughters, took possession of separate farms shortly afterwards. It is supposed, that at or about the same time all the farms in fact were allotted. But, in 1825, the eldest on Joseph, on company of the lands, (e) unly as far as practicable.) among all the nitrode devices, Margaret included, and to convey the eldest land to each allottee on attaining majority. He undertakes to join in the conveyances, and in the meantime the stimulation of the paintiff state; and, with him on the lands of the promotes, the administrators made over to Joseph lith percentage to the device of the paintiff was live years old only. From that time until 1864, except for about three years, during which some relation of Margaret's collected the r

In Dee v. Reed, 5 B. and A. 236, it appears to be clearly laid down, that the question whether a conveyance conforming title has been executed, however long the possession of the party seeking to establish the presumption, is after all one of fact. The Courr there observes, that the grant of a right of way is presumed, after long user, simply because no portion of that user could be reasonably accounted for, unless there had been originally such a grant. Abbott L. C. J. adds, that the cvess as to presumption had already gone far enough, and ought not be extended. But the difference between the user of a right of way, and a grant to support it, and the case of a presumed conveyance to confirm, or create a title, is obtains.

again of way, and a grant to support it, and the case of a passumed conveyance to confirm, or create a title, is shighn.

For the several reasons given, we are of opinion that the manual in this case was right; and the rule obtained by the plaintiff for setting it aside, therefore, to discharged.

EAFLEY, WASTIN.

SI ALTERIS STRUBN, C. J., also delivered the judgment of the Court in this case, as follows.

This was an action to recover damages, for tre-passing on the plaintiff shad in the county of Canden, held by him under lease from the representatives of John Terry Hughes, by driving carts and cattle through it, and cutting down leaves exceed there. The defendant, who occupies a farm signant, justified these acts on the ground of the existence, as he alleges, of a public highway over the plaintiff shad—shong the portion trespassed on. If not a public highway, the defendant insisted that it was Crown land, and averred, in his second plea, that he entered on it by isome from the Crown. On each of these defences, at the rial before me, there was a good deal of evidence, terminating in a verdict for the plaintiff on both issues; but, take my direction, and by consent, subject to the opinion of the Court, (with power to draw inferences as to facts.) whether the verdict ought not to have been for the defendant. In the year 1852, the defendant is father purchased the farm now occupied by the defendant; father purchased the farm now occupied by the defendant; father purchased the farm now occupied by the defendant; father purchased the farm now occupied by the defendant is father purchased.

The land had been previously advertised, and the advertisement is each of the court in like manner, but on these nothing depends. The sunthern boundary, with the eastern, is then given in like manner, but on the sent line in the same read nemtioned, or the reservation (actual or intended) of a road, along his western boundary, indicated. All the side of the contemplated by the Crown, may have been thought unnecessed or prenature cessemplated by the Crown, may have been thought unnecessary or prenature.

In 1835, that unoccupied land or a portion of it was put up for sale, and purchased by John Terry Hughes, to whom it was accordingly soon afterwards granted. It is described, both in the advertisement, and the described, both in the advertisement, and the described, both in the salvertisement, and the described of grant, as 1150 acres commencing at Martin's horth west corner; and as being bounded on the west (confessedly and palpably a clerical mistake for coad), by a south line of 165 chains. There can be no doubt, therefore, and the fact was indeed admitted, that this south line—to the extent here menioned—is identical with Martin's south line of 155 chains. In other words, that line divides the plaintiffs (i.e., Ilughes's) and the defendant's properties. And the grant to Hughes, after specifying that the south boundary extended

The sdvertiscensed for the sale of this boundary.

The sdvertiscensed for the sale of this boundary.

The sale of the sale of this land, as in the case of Martin, in referred to in the great; and it common with all the country owtend of Hughes's land is mentioned as the country worked of Hughes's and is mentioned as the country worked of Hughes's and the district, was at that time unoccupied. So, also, it seems, was the country out to Hughes's land is was argued for the plaintiff, there could have been no farms or "locations" in either direction, as the terminating points for a road, the country of land purchased by Hughes, and stated to be conveyed to him, was only 1190 acres, the described area according to him grant proves, on actual measurement, to include 1206. Except, however, as still more conclusively tending to show that the site of the indicated road was granted to Hughes, although a right of way for the public was reserved, or intended so to be, the curumstance does not appear to as to be material. The entire area of the road way is about them as the conjuture passes of the road way is about them as the conjuture passes of the road way is about the conjuture, and the conjuture, in point 2 feet. for the exercise and enjoyment of his cupposed right. On the other hand, it was conceded that at the western (or north western) continuation or corresponding to Hughes.

We are of opinion, on this state of facts, that the vedicion the first issue must be entered for the defendant. There was here, we conceive, both before and at the time of the sale and grant to Hughes, a dedication of the road in question to the public, as a highway—effectuated by the control to the purchased the part tow

SITTINGS FOR THE TRIAL OF CAUSES,

Before his Honer Mr. Justice CREEKE and a jury of four.

MINTOSH V. BENALD.

The trial of this case, which was commenced on Thursday, was resumed and concluded.

It was an action for slander. The plaintiff, Agnes Janet M'Intosh, had been stewardess of the A. S. N. Company's steamer Samson, trading between Sydney and the Manning River. The defendant Jean Benaud, was, at the time this cause of action accrued, the master of that vessel. The effect of the slander declared upon was to charge the plaintiff with having had illicit intercourse with one Charles John Webb, the principal steward of the Samson. There were two counts in the declaration. The first of these charged the defendant with having uttered the slander complained of in the shape of an accusation to Webb himself of laxing been sexually intimate with the plaintiff. The second count charged, in general terms, an uttercance of the same slander to other persons without stating to whom. It was also averted as a matter of special damages that, by reason of this slander, the plaintiff had lost her situation as stewardees. The damages were laid at 1500. The defendant pleaded the general issue (not guilty) to both counts.

Mr. Issues and Mr. Fester, instructed by Mr. Greer, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Dailey and Mr. Salomons, instructed by Mr. Thurlow, for the defendant.

The plaintiff was, apparently, a very young woman. She was a native of Societael and had as a heaveners no role, was a native of Societael and had be a selectory to refer the second of the plaintiff of the second covers on role, was a native of Societael and had be a selectory to refer the second counts.

ant pleaded the general issue (not guilty) to both counts. Mr. Isaacs and Mr. Foster, naturated by Mr. Greer, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Dalley and Mr. Salomons, instructed by Mr. Thurlow, for the defendant.

The plaintiff was, apparently, a very young woman. She was a native of Scotland, and had, as she swore, no relatives in this colony. The defendant was a married man of natidite age. The plaintiff's cases was that the defendant had on everal occasions endoevaured to prevail upon her to tecome criminally intimate with him, and that because of her having resisted these attempts at seduction on his part, he had made himself a party to a charge against her, and had procured her dismissal from the service of the Company. The charge, it was maintained, was grossly false. It was admitted, however, that defendant might have attached some belief to it, but it maintained, nevertheless, that he had urged it maliciously against the plaintiff so as to injure her. The second steward had charged the plaintiff and the chief steward with having been too intimate with each other, and had insisted upon this charge being reported to the proper officer of the Company. The defendant, it was said, had reported this fact to the procedore, whose servants the stewards were, and the provedore, in consequence of this report, had dismissed them both. The defendant had also mentioned it to Captain Murroe, the Company's superintendent, and to at least one other person. The words specken to by Captain Murroe, the Company's experimend it of Captain Murroe, the Company's experimend in the declaration, and leave was granted, after argument, to add a new count to cover the adjusted slander as embraced in the words to which Captain Murroe deposed. But although there was a variation in the words used, the charge was substantially the same—one of likelit intercourse between Webb and the plaintiff, except that to Murroe it was specten of his duty as master—bound to check all bad practices on board of the vessel he commanded. Various expr

But those who held the property effect it had passed out of this gentlemen's hands, might still, by an allowance of uninterrupted user, have dedicated the land in question to the public. Where, however, user was permitted, with an express notice that the right of the proprietor was reserved—as in the case of the thoroughfare between Pitt and George streets, known as "Mort's Passage" there would be no dedication, no matter how long such user might have lasted. And the evidence upon this point in the present case was, as his Honor pointed out, conflicting, it was for the jury to weigh this evidence and say whether it made out a case of dedication to the public of of merely permissive user.

A verdict was taken, by consent, of three-fourths of the jury, without requiring them to remain out for the period necessary to render such a verdict legally receivable. Their finding was for the plaintiff, with 40s. damages.

His Howen suggested, for the plaintiff seconsideration, that he might permit the defendant and other neighbours to draw water from the river along the ground in question, without prejudicing his own rights was proprietor.

Annex of the defendant, and the defendant.

Mrs. Gentery was the defendant's mother, and was the sister of the plaintiff. The latter stated that he had taken £800 out of the Bank of New South Wales two years ago, and had given it to his sister to keep for nim, with the understanding that she would pay him interest for the use of it. This oridence was confirmed by the testimony of M'Nausara, a publican. The defendant, on hearing this evidence, consented to a verticit for £775, the remaining £25 having been previously paid on plaintiff's account.

MOON V. OATES

The trial of this case, which was entered upon on Tuesday last, and postponed till to-day in order to allow defendant to file another ples, was now resumed and concluded. It was an action for trospass. The plaintiff was a householder and ratepayer residing within the municipality of Waterloo, and the defendant was the chairman of the Waterloo Municipal Council, A rate to the amount of £1 ds., under an assessment made in 1863, at the rate of 1s, in the pound, was levied upon plaintiff's property, in the early part of the present year, and he (plaintiff) refused to pay it, on the ground that there had not been any assessment of the property during the municipal year for which this rate was charged. The defendant had enforced payment by issuing a distress warrant, and levying upon plaintiff's goods, placing a baillif in possession until the amount, under protest. The question in dispute was as to whether the defendant, in carrying out the resolutions of the municipal council, could legally levy a rate without making a new assessment, as the 75th section of the Municipalities Act provides that within three months after the election of a second of the Municipalities and the second of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the election of a second of the manner and the second of a second of the manner and the second of the second o the levy of a rate sufficient to meet such required expenditure. It was admitted that there had not been any new assessment during the present municipal year, except as regarded the houses and properties created since the last assessment, and this, the assessment of 18-33 had been adopted as the basis for levying a rate of 1a. in the pound generally. There was no Court of Appeal, except for the new properties assessed. It appeared also that doubts had been expressed in the council as to the legality of levying a rate without a new assessment; four of the councilors voting for the collection of a rate without a new assessment, and four against it, the defendant giving his casting vate in favour of the collection. The case excited a good dead of interest, as it was understood the decision would be acted upon in other numericalities. Mr. S. C. Brown addressed the Court for the claimit; and Mr. Foater, for the defendant, replied. His Honer said the case was one of very great importance, and he did not therefore wish to decide hastily. He should consider the matter carefully, and communicate with the professional gentlemen engaged in the case when he was ready to deliver judgment.

NIXON V. ASHDOWN.

This was an autom to recover the sum of C21 lbs. Id., as commission alleged to be due for collecting certain debts for the firm of Ashdown and Co. Mr. Blake appeared for the plaintiff; Mr. Salomons for defendant. BANQUET TO MR. H. PARKES, M.L.A.

(Frees the Kienes Independent, August 17.)

Titl. banquer to Mr. Parks came of, according to pregramme, on Tuesday evening last. The spartment selected for the purpose was the goods store of the Illawarra Steam Navigation Company, which had been kindly placed at the disposal of the contractor, for the occasion, by the Company's agent, who, with the men in his employ, contributed also in other ways to the convenience of the company and the perfect success of the demonstration. The room, which was thirty feet in length and twenty feet in width, educited of the introduction of three rows of tables, at which were seated a large company, most satisfactorily representing the property and intelligence of the district. The building was regarded with a warriety of flags. The proceedings commenced at about half-past six, when Mr. John Marks took the chair, the vice-chair being occupied by Mr. Charles Tayler, M.R.C.S.

We must notomit to mention the very handsome and liberal manner in which the tables were farmished by Mr. and Mrs. Adams, of the Steam Facket Hotel. The various courses having been duly honoured, and the cloths removed, the chairman proposed, in cloquent and appropriate terms, the bealth of "Our Sovereign Lady," which, of course, was received with those expressions of loyalty which always on such occasions evince the attachment of Australians to the Crown. The tosat, "the Prince and Princess of Wales," was proposed with equal cloquence and spirit by the vice-chair, and correspondingly received. The next tosat from the chair was "The Governer." "The Army and Navy" followed, proposed by the vice-chair, responded to by Mr. S. Tobin for the army, and Captain R. Stob for the navy. The chairman then proposed in elequent and eulogistic language, "The Guest of the Evening," reviewing, in glowing terms, the great labour Mr. Farkes underwent in securing the form and substance of responsible government for the colony. (Prolonged applause.)

Mr. Tarkee (who was enthusiastically cheered making his visit to the district the occasion of this representative gathering. But he was not vain enough to assume that any personal consequence attached to himself in this movement in this quiet community. He believed the independent men of this happy and prospersons district had made his visit the occasion for celebrating, in this true Eritish fashion, their adherence to the progress of liberal principles. That was a phrase often on the lips of public speakers, and it was used so vaguely that it often meant almost anything, and sometimes nothing at all. But a great master had lately taken nyon himself to define what was understood by "liberal principles." Some three months ago Mr. Gladstone had defined liberal principles to mean "the principle of trust in the people, only relieved by prudence," and the opposite to it as "instrust in the people, only relieved by fear." He accepted this definition, and he asked their attention for a few uniquest to a brief review of the last nine years, to see what the success of liberal principles had done for this colony. It had multiplied the fields of industry, it had spread intelligence, it had increased the camforts of the bomes of the people, and every condition of life, it had largely added to the conveniences and the elevating influences of society. What man was there amonest them who thorourshy knew the state of things under the old system of government, when we passessed none of the parliamentary privilences of freemen, who would not admit that the country had been greatly beneficially and the country had been greatly beneficially and the country had been greatly beneficially assume the statute book of the colony, and see what the actual legislation had been carnied out successfully, the available talent of the different districts had been trained and accustomed to the duties of self-government. That left them examine the statute had been carnied out successfully, the available talent of the duties of self-government. They had passed Acts for opening the public lan pesses the nearm of Mr. S. W. Gray, who responded at considerable length.

The "Agricultural interests of the district," was given from the vice-chair, and appropriately responded to by Messrs. John Colley, D. L. Dymock, and E. Russell. "Our Commercial interests," from the chair, was acknowledged by Mr. Whittingham, of the Commercial Bank. "The Ladies," proposed by Mr. J. Black, was acknowledged by Mr. Whittingham, of the Independent, was responded to first by Mr. J. Woston, of the Independent, and afterwards, at the urgent request of the company, by Mr. Parkes, and to the vice-chair by Mr. S. W. Gray. These compliments were suitably acknowledged; and the company separated in the highest good humour at about half-past 12 o'clock.

it very desirable not only to light Newtown with gas but also to light the road between Newtown and Parramattastreet.

Mr. DUNLOF said he had not communicated with any other municipality on the subject.

The Rev. S. C. KRNT supported the resolution. He was not aware that any person signing the requisition had any shares in any gas company. He believed that those who signed the requisition were the largest ratepayers in the municipality, and would derive less advantage than any gentleman to whom he had now the pleasure of speaking. Their wish was the prosperity of Newtown. (Cheers.) The question the inhabitants of this suburb had to consider was, should they pave and light their streets so as to make Newtown attractive, or should they allow the other suburbs to draw away the population? (Cheers.) It was a question in which mechanics and artizans were more interested than those who lived in the larger houses. If they would consent to such an arrangement as would make their streets than those who lived in the larger houses. If they would consent to such an arrangement as would make their streets a hundred-fold. They might as well as by day, the advantage would come back upon them a hundred-fold. They might have to spend a penny a week, but he honestly believed that they would gain a shilling a week. (Hear, hear.) Tradesmen would get an acquisition of custom, and the artisans would also reap an advantage. He was annious that the streets should be lighted, so that all who lived around him might be able to go to market on the Saturday night, and attend church in the evening as well as in the norming.

second aim might be able to go to binaric on the Sautrasy night, and attend church in the evening as well as in the morning.

Mr. Rikoshury expressed himself in favour of lighting the municipality with gas.

Mr. Sykons said he should like Newtown to be lighted with gas, but he did not see where the money was to come from. He thought water was more essential than gas, and concluded by moving by way of amendment—"That in the opinion of this meeting it is premature to tax the ratepayers of this municipality for gas."

Mr. Lokes seconded the amendment.

Mr. Melville supported the amendment. He thought it undesirable at present to increase municipal taxation. He would rather not put the power into the hands of the Council. In his opinion it would be better to wait until one or two purifications had been made in the Council, and until they had more snoney in their pockets.

After some observations from Mr. Savinders in favour of the original motion, the amendment was put, and carried by a large majority.

A vote of thanks to the chairman was put and unanimously carried, and the meeting separated.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

PRINCE OF WALES THEATER.—The dramatic season at the Prince of Wales Theatre, under the direction of Mr. Charles Poole, commenced on Monday evening last, before a large audience, with a sensation drama entitled the "Streets of London." The drama is an alteration by Mr. Dion Bourcicault of the French place known as Les Pouvres de Paris, written by MM. Brissebar and Eugene Nus, and originally produced in seven acts at the Ambigu Comique in 1856. An English adaptation was prepared by Mr. Stirling Ceyme for the Surrey Theatre, and under the title of Fraud and Its Victims, it was there produced March 2nd, 1857. In the course of the story the incidents of the original are closely followed, the scene being changed to London and the best known localities of that metropolis being represented on the stage. The principal scenes for effect are, a smow storm and tue burning of the house in which Lucy Fairweather and her brother Paul reside, who being reduced to great poverty, resolve to suffocate thermselves by the fumes of charcost, and in the attempt to do so set fire to the room in which they live. The faint flickering of the faunes is seen and the alarm given. All the incidents attending a conflagration are introduced, an engine is brought on the stage and the brigade play on the burning building. The general incidents are much the same as "Fraud and its Victims," with which the patrons of the drama are doubtless familiar. The various characters were well supported as follows:—Gideon Crawley, Mr. Burford; Adam Pairweather, Mr. None; Mark Levingstone, Mr. Miran; Paul Fairweather, Mr. Kayner; Badger, Mr. Barry, Puffy, Mrs. Crosby. The farce of the "Bonnie Fish Wife" concluded the performances. On Tuesday the same bill was repeated to a good house. On Wednesday Mr. Joseph Pairwesther, Mr. Stories of the Mount, and "Streets of London" was repeated, and on the latter evening the elegant commely of "Perfection" was performed two solos on the violin. On Tuesday he same bill was repeated as Sir Lawrence Paragon, Mr. Miran a Char PRINCE OF WALES THEATRE.—The dramatic season at the Prince of Wales Theatre, under the direction of Mr. Charles Poole, commenced on Monday evening last, before

To afford purchasers of carputs every advantage in selecting suitable designs and colourings to harmonise with their furniture, we have erected an entirely new room for this additional branch of our trade, and have made especial study to have sufficient space combined with good light. The new building is upwards of fifty feet long, of consistent width, and corresponding height with our principal establishment, and will admit of showing on the floor several carputs at ene time. This is a great advantage to purchasers.

SPLENDID CATTLE PROPERTIES, BURNETT and PORT CURTIS DISTRICTS.

For Positive Sale, to close a partnership account, owing the death of one of the partners and the expiration the death of our course term of partnership. The following well known and extensive Cattle Station viz.:—

LOT 1.—MONDURAN, situated in the BURNETT and WIDE BAY DISTRICTS, on the MAIN ROAD from MARYBOROUGH to GLADSTONE (about equi-distant from each town), with substantial improvements and 6500 HEAD of CATTLE, more or less;

LOT 2.—MILTON, aituated and embracing the whole watershed of the RIVER BOYNE, from its source to within 25 miles of its mouth, where it falls into FORT CURTIS, about 4 miles south of the important and rising TOWN of GLADSTONE.

Improvements on Milton are well built, and comprise every requisite for working a large property.

With this Station will be sold 14,000 HEAD OF CATTLE, more or less, ery superior Herd, chiefly bred from the noted diamond brand, from the RICHMOND RIVER.

* All the above Cattle will be mustered and delivered and Calves under 6 months oid given in. Stores Drsys, Teams, Working Stock, and all Belongings to be taken by Valuation in the usual way.

ICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions from Messrs, FANNING, GRIFFITHS, and CO., to sell by public auction, at the Rooma, Fitt-street, Sydney, on FRIDAY, the 6th of October next, at 11 o'clock, The Bove magnificent cattle properties.

LOT 1.—MONDURAN STATION.—This valuable property consists of seven large contiguous blocks or runs, well grassed and watered, entbracing an immense area of rich grazing and fattening country, estimated to carry a very large number of stock in all seasons. It is in the immediate vicinity of Messrs. Wilson and Holf's property, and the noted GIN GIN Station, whilst it also adjoins the property of Messrs. Robertson, Brothers, upon which is erected a first-class

BOILING-DOWN ESTABLISHMENT for the use of the public.

The IMPROVEMENTS are very substantial. They

BOILING-DOWN ESTABLISHMENT
for the use of the public.

The IMPROVEMENTS are very substantial. They comprise a well-built DWELLING-HOUSE, stable, smithy, and all necessary outhouses, a first-rate stockyard, capable of working a large herd, with every convenience for branding, spaying, &c.; several miles of most substantial fencing has been put up, and other heavy expenses incurred to make this property complete in every respect.

With Monduran will be sold
6500 HEAD OF CATTLE, MORE OR LESS.
A choice well bred herd, no expense or trouble having been spared to keep up the high character of the cattle. There are now a considerable number of fat beasts ready to be brought to market.

LOT 2.—MILTON STATION.—This extensive run is situated in the PORT CURTIS DISTRICT (the head station being only a short day's ride from the TOWN OF GLADSTONE), and embraces the whole watershed of the RIVER BOYNE, from its source to within 25 miles of its mouth, having a frontage of about 30 miles to that river, besides being abundantly supplied throughout by the creeks named "Two-mile." "Six-mile," "Ten-mile,"

"Fifteen-mile," "Twenty-mile," and "Twentyfive-mile," besides acveral other streams. The character of the run is first-class, both for breeding, and fattening, and its present number of stock is considered trifling compared with its ENORMOUS GRAZING CAPABILITIES. From the configuration of the country, it might be subdivided at a very small expense, into a series of breeding, weaning, and fattening paddocks, each on a large scale.

Milton is bounded on three sides by inaccessible ranges, and on the north by the Barmandoo and Iveragh Runs.

Runs.

 It may be mentioned that this property has been worked with the view of increasing numbers with the least additional outlay of capital, and during the last two years the numbers have increased nearly 5000 bead, while during the same period sales of fat stock have covered all expenses, including commission and interest on the money invested, and also left no inconsiderable profit.

The IMPROVEMENTS consist of a comfortable DWELLING-HOUSE, and all necessary outbuildings; extensive stock yards, substantially erected on the most approved plans; large paddocks, garden, &c.
With Milion will be sold

14,000 HEAD OF CATTLE, more or less, a very superior herd, chiefly bred from a good selection of the well known D in diamond brand, from the Richmond River.

There are sufficient horses and mares of good quality on the station to supply all present and future requirements.

Properties of the value of those described above do not require any particular comment further than the direct notice of sale; but as these extensive and valuable runs are brought into the market under peculiar circumstances—viz., "to close a partnership which has expired by effluxion of time, and which cannot be renewed or centinued owing to the death of one of the partners, and hence must be realised on the day appointed "—RICHARDSON and WRENCH would beg to direct special attention to them, and to the advantages which must accrue to their purchaser.

and to the advantages which must accrue to their pur-chaser.

Both properties are within a few days' post, and have easy access to a shipping port.

One has a boiling-down establishment on the next station, and the other within a short drive.

Both have had a very large increase during the year, a great proportion of which will go to the purchaser free of cost.

And both are very lightly stocked.

And both are very lightly stocked.

Neither must it be forgotten that the scarcity of cattle in the Nouthern Colonies, and the long prices at which contracts for forward delivery of every kind of horned stock are now being made, cannot fall to prove a great source of profit to these stations, and that for two or three years at least there is a constant market ready for every beast fit for the butcher and for store stock; and, further, that, as the property must now be absolutely disposed of, for the reasons already given, the vendors are willing to be very liberal in the terms of sale.
